Maximum Price Fluctuation (Banding)

No price limits for floor or electronic trading; however, for electronic trading, automated price banding prevents execution of orders at prices outside set parameters based on the last sale, best bid or best offer. Price banding prevents the entry of limit orders more than a predetermined amount above the last price in the case of bids and more than the same predetermined amount below the last price in the case of offers. The band “shadows” the last CME Group currency futures price as it reacts to new transaction prices, higher bids and lower offers.

Ticker Symbol Nomenclature

CME Group disseminates currency market data over a ticker feed to the direct quote vendor's networks. Currency options ticker symbols in some cases are the same as the currency futures ticker symbols (EC for both futures and options for Euro FX). Here, the letters "C" and "P" are added for calls and puts, respectively. In other cases, unique option codes are denoted (CJ for calls and PJ for puts for Japanese yen options). Even though these contracts have different option codes from the futures, the letters "C" and "P" are still part of the message. Each individual section of this calendar contains the specific ticker symbols. The same codes are used for pit-traded and electronically-traded currency options (not traded side-by-side so different ticker codes are not required for the two trading venues).

These currency ticker symbols combine with standard calendar month codes:

January = F	February = G	March = H
April = J	May = K	June = M
July = N	August = Q	September = U
October = V	November = X	December = Z

Calendar year suffix 2008 = 08 specifies the year of individual currency futures contract months.

Number designations are added to reflect specific exercise prices. Weekly options have separate codes which were designed to include the number of the weekly expiration (one through five) combined with a unique letter for the specific currency.

The weekly options will also include the month and year indicator along with the “C” and “P” for calls and puts (1XH08 C = the first weekly CME Group Euro FX March 2008 call option, 4JM08 P = the fourth weekly CME Group Japanese Yen June 2008 put option).

Sample ticker symbol transmissions for currency options:

A price transmitted with the symbol “ECH08 C9100” is the price for the March 2008 9100 call options for CME Group Euro FX futures.

A price transmitted with the symbol “PJM08 P8400” is the price for the June 2008 8400 put options for CME Group Japanese Yen futures.

A price transmitted with the symbol “2XH08 P9050” is the price for the Week 2 – 9050 put options on the nearby March quarterly cycle CME Group Euro FX futures.

A price transmitted with the symbol “5JH08 C8350” is the price for the Week 5 – 8350 call options on the nearby March quarterly cycle CME Group Japanese Yen futures.

These ticker symbols are accompanied by price information over the ticker feed to the direct quote vendors. Some quote vendors choose to get their ticker feed directly from CME Group; others may obtain the information from one of the direct vendors. Please note that individual quote vendors assign their own nomenclature to define CME Group quotations (see “Quote Vendor Symbols” on page 75).

FX OPTIONS: AMERICAN- AND EUROPEAN-STYLE PRODUCTS

Our 31 FX options contracts offer you more choices — major or emerging-market currencies, premium- or volatility-based quoting, American- or European-style expiration.

Over the past two years, CME Group has enhanced its FX options offering by adding European-style expirations and increasing market access by listing all of our most actively traded FX options on CME Globex. These changes have helped fuel growth in FX options volume with an average daily volume of $3.5 billion.

CME Group FX Options (Aug 2006 - Nov 2007)

THE COMBINATION OF CHOICE AND FLEXIBILITY

Choose your Quoting Method

Two quoting conventions are available for FX options. Whether you prefer quoting in terms of premium or implied volatility, the underlying option contract is identical, making it easier than ever to compare options contract prices with OTC cash contracts.

Premium — The price paid by the purchaser of an option to the grantor (seller).

Implied volatility — An estimate of the future volatility of the underlying contract that can be input into a theoretical valuation model to solve for an option premium.

Volatility quoted options launching Q1, 2008.

Choose your Style

CME Group also offers two expiration styles. Having a choice of American- or European-style options provides you the ability to execute a larger variety of strategies based on your trading style.

European-style options – Can only be exercised at maturity and are automatically exercised on expiration if in-the-money, based on a daily fix calculated and published by CME Group at 9 a.m. CT, 10 a.m. ET on the day of expiration.*

*For information on the daily fix, please refer to the following web link www.cme.com/currfixprice to get the latest information on the procedure used to calculate the daily fix and the following link www.cme.com/fxfixing-price to get the most recently published daily fix values.

American-style options – These options are exercised automatically at 2 p.m. CT, 3 p.m. ET, against the settlement price of the underlying future as determined by the Exchange on the day of expiration.

Please refer to the CME Group Web site for the latest information on expiration procedures for American-style options.

WORLD CLASS CLEARING

CME Group operates the world's largest clearing house. CME Clearing matches and settles all trades and guarantees the creditworthiness of every transaction that takes place in our markets. Our integrated clearing function ensures the safety and soundness of our markets and helps differentiate us from our competitors.

With CME Clearing serving as counterpart to every trade – e.g., in the clearing process it guarantees the creditworthiness of the buyer to each seller of a futures contract and the seller to each buyer – credit risk is virtually eliminated. Performance bond/margin deposits are required at each level in the clearing process – customer to broker, broker to clearing firm, clearing firm to clearing house. The performance bond is a good-faith deposit that represents the minimum amount of protections against potential losses.

CME Clearing handles more than 90 percent of all futures and options contracts traded in the United States.

KEY FEATURES OF CME CLEARING

- Twice daily settlement and mark-to-market that limits accumulation of losses or debt
- Risk-based portfolio margining
- Comprehensive, real-time financial surveillance program that maximizes early detection of changes in risk profiles
- Regulatory supervision and audit of clearing members' financial condition and exposures
- Mutualized risk-sharing among all clearing house participants rather than single bilateral credit exposure

THE CME$INDEX FUTURES CONTRACT IS A GEOMETRIC INDEX OF SEVEN CURRENCIES DEVELOPED BY CME GROUP.

The index was created using a set of weights published by the Board of Governors of the U.S. Federal Reserve System. These weights are designed to reflect the relative competitiveness of U.S. goods in foreign markets, and will be updated annually. Individual currencies included in the index are traded in deep and relatively liquid financial markets, and have readily available short- and long-term interest rates. The seven currencies and their respective weights for 2007 are as follows:
